PROFILE

Junior Full Stack Developer with over 1 year of professional experience specializing in high-performance backend systems with Go (Gin, GORM) and modern frontend architectures with React and Next.js. I have a proven track record of delivering real-world production projects, including a premium e-commerce platform and a large-scale real estate marketplace. I am particularly focused on REST API architecture, search logic optimization, and improving system concurrency. Driven by technical challenges, I am constantly looking to learn and implement scalable solutions within the Go and TypeScript ecosystems.
